Thoughts from Pastor Sharpe...

“What Can I Do To Ensure My Life Counts?”

How does one realize the life God has given to me matters? That is a significant question so many are asking in today’s world and in our life situations. It’s a universal question that has relevance in our present world that often appears to have very little value for human need, respect, hurt, and life itself.

The true significance of life is that God made human beings in his own image with precious value, and that value, that significance, consists only in knowing God, loving God, and trusting God. In other words, life is always about God. It begins with God and ends with God. Man is not central; God is central. He created the universe and humanity in order to magnify the greatness of God, and our joy in this world, which God made essential, is in Jesus Christ, in God the Father, and in the Holy Spirit.

“There should be no tension between finding our life’s significance and finding what God wants of us. When we find God, joy reflects in our life.”

So, there should be very little tension between finding our significance in life and in what God wants for us. Being in service to God brings meaning, direction, and purpose. This reflects joy and happiness in every area of our lives and brings to us meaning and purpose. This is one of the greatest discoveries of a life with Christ: “God’s purpose to be glorified and our passion to be satisfied are not at odds. They come together in finding our satisfaction in God. God is most glorified in me when I am most satisfied in him. He gets the glory. We get the joy.”

Now, the second part of the answer to the question, “What Will Cause My Life To Count?” has to do with risk taking and service to others. People who find their fullest joy and satisfaction in God, are gifts that can never be taken away, not even death can take it away. In God’s presence is fullness of joy. At his right hand are pleasures forever — forever (Psalm 16:11). So, death cannot stop our joy and significance. These people are the most risky and dangerous in the best sense of service. They love others at any cost, they have found peace in relationship with Jesus, and they have found the meaning in living life....learning how to please just one person, Jesus and only Jesus.

Blessings to you,

Pastor Sharpe

Pastor Search Update

“Your Pastor Search Committee continues to meet and explore options as we move forward in our search for our next pastor. We feel God’s hand on us as we work in new directions. Personally, as the chairman, I feel energized in the possibilities that lie ahead. God is working and speaking to us and others in more audible tones. Be assured, however, Satan is doing his best to derail our work. We continue to covet your prayers and encouraging words as we work. Isaiah 41:10 reminds us: So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with my righteous right hand.”
